

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

PSY-GEO-PROVFLUX, May 27-29th, 2005.
Providence, RI

Submissions Application and Guidelines

The Providence Initiative for Psychogeographic Studies (PIPS) is looking for experimental projects in contemporary urban exploration and public art. The Provflux hopes to attract a wide range of artists, thinkers, and explorers for a weekend of interventions and entertainment.

The projects can take any form, providing it engages notions of urban space and psychogeography. Public interventions, actions, installations, projects, videos, and documentation will all be considered.

All disciplines are encouraged to submit material. The deadline for proposals is April 15th, 2005.

Name individual/group: _____

Address: _____ Email: _____

_____ URL : _____

_____ Phone #: _____

Name of Project: _____

Description: _____
_____
_____
_____

Possible Categories(Please Check One):

- Public Intervention/ Performance/ Participatory Sculpture
- Urban Exploration (derives, tours, abandoned spaces, tunnels, etc)
- Lost Space Recovery/ Temporary Installations
- Tech Mapping/ Audio/ Visual (gps mapping, projections, generative psygeo)
- Gallery Work/ Documentation of Project
- Lecture/ Discussion/ Theory
- Games/ Experimental Public Art
- Other: _____

Brief Mission Statement and Resume Should be included in application. Send all information to: c/o PIPS, The Firehouse 13, 41 Central St, Providence, R.I., 02907.

PLEASE NOTE: Include all relevant digital image, audio, or video files with completed form. Supporting attachments and descriptions are encouraged. Presentors should include copies of texts and/or brief synopsis of material to be considered.